ELEMENTS OF HUMOR.

Fear, Jealousy and Anger Not Among Them.

Of the two ingredients of humor which Thackeray mentions, the first, love, is that which gives body, says Samuel M. Crothers, in Atlantic; the addition of wit gives the effervescence. The pleasure of wit lies in its unexpectedness. In humor there is the added pleasure of really liking that which surprises us. It's like meeting an old friend in an unexpected place. What, you here?" we say.

This is the kind of pleasure we get from Dr. Johnson's reply to the lady who asked why he had put a certain definition in his dictionary: "Pure ignorance, madam." The fact is that long ago we made the acquaintance of one whom Bunyan describes as "a brisk young lad named Ignorance." He is a dear friend of ours, and we are on very familiar terms with him when we are at home; but we don't expect to meet J. Cook. him in society. Suddenly we turn the corner, and we see him walking arm in arm with so great a man as Dr. Samuel Johnson. At once we are at our ease in the presence of the great man; it seems we have a mutual acquaint-

Another element in real humor is a certain detachment of mind. We must not be afraid, or jealous, or angry; in order to take a really humorous view of any character, one must be in a position to see all around it. If I were brought before Fielding's Squire Western on a chargeof poaching, and if I had a pheasant concealed under my coat, I should not be in a position to appreciate what an amusing person the squire is. I should be inclined to take him very seriously.

The small boy who pins a paper to the schoolmaster's coat tail imagines that he has achieved a masterpiece of attention given to the collection of humor. But he is not really in a position to reap the fruits of his perilous adventure. It's a fearful and precarious joy which he feels. What if the schoolmaster should turn around? That would be tragedy.

Now, neither the small boy nor the schoolmaster gets the full flavor of the thing to improve your flock. humor. But suppose at that moment an old friend of the schoolmaster happens to look in at the door. His delight in the situation has a mellowness far removed from the anxious ambig-General and Special Office over uous glee of the urchin. He knows that the small boy is not so wicked as No. 51—Fast Mail..... 5:27 p. m No. 91—N. O. DANCING AS AN AMUSEMENT. Its Physical Dangers Defined by a Woman Doctor. "From time immemorial movements to music have given expression to almost every phase of human At the close of business on the 30th feeling. We are saddened by the solemn cadence of the death march, and wonder at the wild evolutions of the savage which give expression to the frenzy of war or of the joy of victory," says Dr. Cordelia A. Greene, of Castile, N. Y.

"The most refined dancing of the most cultivated society is not without its moral and physical days and the fascinations of fancy dress, and the source of fascinations of fas en exercising violently for hours in tight clothing which has little support, the late hours and the hypnotic influence of the intimate associations make dancing one of the most alluring and most easily harmful amusements. "With simple, loose dress and care> fully chosen companions, the dance could be wisely limited and directed as a gymnastic training. It might thus be made a safe and rational recreation. If skating or gymnastic exercises were indulged in for four or five hours as violently as dancing they would be justly condemned. Any exercise indulged in for a long time continuously is unavoidably injurious. This is more true perhaps of dancing than any other form of exercise, for this reason: In dancing the greatest strain comes on the lumbar portion of the spinal column. The greatest strain is there in standing, and still more so in dancing. The next greatest strain is on the heart. the heart dancing will quickly in-

Wonderful Procession of Babies.

It will probably startle a good many persons to find, on the authority of a line in cradles, the cradles would extend round the globe. The same writer looks at the matter in a more picturesque light. He imagines the babies being carried past a given point in their mothers' arms, one by one, night and day until the last hour in the 12 months had passed by. A sufficiently liberal rate is allowed; but | even in the going past at the rate of 20 a minute, 1,200 an hour during the entire year, the reviewer at his post would only have seen the sixth part of the infantile host. In other words, the babe that had to be carried when the tramp began would be able to walk when but a fraction of its comrades had reached the reviewer's post, and when the year's supply of babies was drawing to a close, there would be a rearguard, not of infants, but of Henderson. Ky romping six-year-old boys and girls.

The furner's wife who raises chickens, knows that they must have food enough first to satisfy hunger, then enough more than that to make flesh and fat before they will begin to lay In plain words you've got to put into the hen in the form of food what you get out of it in the shape of eggs. An ill nourished hen lays no eggs. The difference between the farmer's wife and her chickens is that she fancies she can take out of herself in daily cares and toils what she does not put back in the form of nourishment for nerve and body. But she can't. Sooner or later the woman who tries it breaks down.

The warning signs of physical break-down are, among others, headache, weak stomach, flatulence, pain in side or back, difficult breathing, palpitation of the heart. These are only some of the indications of a derangement of the stom-ach and organs of digestion and nutrition. The one sure remedy for this condition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which strengthens the stomach, purifies the blood and nourishes and invigorates the nerves.

Mrs. Martha E, Barham, of Newville, Prince George Co., Va., writes: "I commenced to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in June, 1897, also his 'Favorite Prescription,' and I cannot express the benefit I have received from these medicines. I was suffering with what the doctors called chronic indigestion, torpid liver and vertigo. The doctor did not do me any good. My symptoms were giddiness in head, pains in chest and an uneasy feeling all over. I also suffered with female weakness. I was all run-down and could not do any work at all without suffering from nervons attacks, so I wrote to you for advice. You advised me to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription.' When I commenced to use the medicines I weighed only 112 pounds, now I weigh 140 pounds. I thank God and Dr. R. V. Pierce for my recovery."
